GUIDELINES FOR THE USE OF UNLICENSED PERSONS BY LICENSEES

Page 2 of 4

Licensees, both brokers and salespersons, often use unlicensed persons, either employed or contracted, to perform various tasks related to a real estate transaction which do not require a license. Such persons, for example, are used as personal assistants, clerical support staff, closing secretaries, etc.

The North Dakota Real Estate License Law prohibits unlicensed persons from negotiating, listing, or selling real property. It is, therefore, important for employing brokers and other licensees using such persons to carefully restrict the activities of such persons so that allegations of wrongdoing under the law or rules can be avoided.

Licensees should not share commission with unlicensed persons acting as assistants, clerical staff, closing secretaries, etc. The temptation for such unlicensed persons, in such situations, to go beyond what they can do and negotiate or take part in other prohibited activities is greatly increased when their compensation is based on the successful completion of the sale.

In order to provide guidance to licensees regarding which activities relating to a real estate transaction unlicensed persons can and cannot perform, the Commission has established the following guidelines:

Activities which CAN be performed by unlicensed persons who, for example, act as personal assistants, clerical support staff, closing secretaries, etc., include, but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Answer the phone and forward calls to licensees.
2. Transmit listing data and changes to a multiple listing service.
3. Follow up on loan commitments after a contract has been negotiated.
4. Assemble documents for closings.
5. Secure documents, i.e. public information, from courthouse, register of deeds, or tax office.
6. Have keys made for the firm's listings.
7. Record and deposit earnest money, security deposits, and other trust monies.
8. Type offers, contracts and leases under the direction of the licensee.
9. Check license renewal and personnel files for the brokers and salespersons with the firm.
10. Compute commission checks and act as bookkeeper for the firm's operating bank accounts.
11. Place and remove signs on property at the direction of a broker or salesperson with the firm.
12. Order and supervise routine and minor repairs as directed by the licensee and/or supervising broker.
13. Act as a courier to deliver or pick up documents, keys, etc.
14. Schedule appointments.
15. Measure property, if licensee verifies measurements.
16. Write and prepare ads, flyers and promotional information and place such advertising.
17. Hand out objective written information on a listing, other than at functions such as open houses, kiosks, and home show booths or fairs.

Activities which CANNOT be performed by unlicensed persons who, for example, act as personal assistants, clerical support staff, closing secretaries, etc., include, but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Make solicitations by telephone or in person to potential listers and purchasers.
2. Show property.
3. Host open houses, kiosks, home show booths, or fairs or hand out materials at such functions.
4. Answer any questions on listings, title, financing, closing, etc.
5. Discuss or explain listings, offers, contracts, or other similar matters with persons outside the firm.
6. Be paid on the basis of real estate activity, such as a percentage of commission, or any amount based on listings, sales, etc.
7. Negotiate or agree to any commission, commission split or referral fee on behalf of a licensee.
8. Act as a "go-between" with a seller and buyer such as when an offer is being negotiated.

Employing brokers, whether they are employing unlicensed persons or whether licensees under their supervision are using unlicensed persons as personal assistants or the like, are responsible for assuring that such unlicensed persons are not involved in activities which require a license and/or activities as stated in these guidelines. Brokers should establish guidelines for the use of unlicensed persons and procedures for monitoring their activities. It is the responsibility of the employing broker to assure that unlicensed persons, either employed or contracted by licensees under his/her supervision, are not acting improperly.
